

Addie Lordemann

Senior Manufacturing Engineer, 3M Company
St. Paul, Minnesota

Addie Lordemann began her engineering career with 3M in 2011. She is a proud graduate of Montana State University with a bachelor's degree in Chemical & Biological Engineering. In her current role, she oversees a large cross-functional manufacturing and business team. She is responsible for production of all of 3M's Home and Office Tapes (H&OT) including: Magic Tape, Transparent Tape, Gift Wrap Tape, and more.

As a Senior Manufacturing Engineer, Addie manages production issues, deals and displays for back-to-school and holiday builds, and development of new products. In early 2017, for the 1st time in over 15+ years, Addie successfully launched a new H&OT tape, Wall Safe. She is currently working on launching a second new tape, Super Hold, for early 2018. In previous roles at 3M, she acted as a Project Engineer, managing over $60 Million worth of capital projects with increasing complexity across several business units. Addie optimized production designs and established millions of dollars in cost avoidances while increasing net sales by over $8M+/year across her project portfolio.

In 2016, Addie received a prestigious national award, the STEP Emerging Leaders Award, through the National Association of Manufacture Institute. Expressing gratitude for this recognition and the associated opportunities, she "paid it forward" by establishing a multi-company "STEP Forward: Twin Cities Conference" focusing on woman in manufacturing. The event was hosted at the 3M Innovation Center in St. Paul, MN in December 2017.

Addie is passionate about being involved in volunteer organizations and events. For many years, she has been both a board member of the United Way Engineering Organization and Chairwoman of the Montana State University 3M Recruiting Team. She also volunteers with local high school students, providing guidance in college preparation and promoting science and engineer fields.

Daughter of Darryl and Carleen Lordemann, Addie was born and raised in Glendive, Montana. In her free time, Addie enjoys sports including: USTA tennis leagues, co-ed softball, flag football, kayaking, whitewater rafting, and both downhill and cross-country skiing. She also loves to travel and has been to places such as Singapore, China, Germany, and Belgium.
